Pax Christi International calls for the immediate liberation of the two kidnapped bishops in Syria

Pax Christi International calls for the immediate liberation of Yohanna Ibrahim, the Syriac Orthodox archbishop of Aleppo, and Paul Yazigi, the Greek Orthodox archbishop of Aleppo in Syria.

The two archbishops reportedly were kidnapped, and a deacon driving them - Fatha' Allah Kabboud - was killed, while they were undertaking a joint humanitarian mission near the Turkish border north of Aleppo on 22 April 2013. Between the Syrian government and the opposition forces, no group has claimed responsibility. These kidnappings are a

Lessons from 10 years of international involvement in Iraq

It has been 10 years since Iraq was invaded by a US led coalition and the regime of Saddam Hussein was toppled. The invasion led to one of the most violent periods in Iraqi history, during which the present Iraq was shaped. International involvement placed a heavy mark on the process of state and nation building in the country. On the occasion of 10 years of international involvement in Iraq, the Netherlands Institute of International Relations 'Clingendael', IKV Pax Christi Netherlands and some other partners will organize a one day seminar on international involvement in Iraq on 27 May 2013. Next steps in making the ATT work.

On 3 June 2013 the Arms Trade Treaty opens for signature in New York. We want as many Heads of Government and/or Foreign Ministers to come as possible on 3 June, in order to make this a very high profile political event. If the first 50 governments announce that they will have a national control list that covers ALL conventional arms, it becomes harder for subsequent signers to do so with a partial list. The higher the political and media profile also, the bigger pressure there will be on governments to sign, and for Entry into Force to happen as soon as possible.

Pax Christi International invites all its Member Organisations to adapt and send a letter to their governments. If you are part of a Control Arms national platform, this will be more effective if you send the letter as a group. Read/use the Template Letter. Read more here. ■

ADVOCACY AND CAMPAIGNING

Participation in the NGO Working Group of the UN Security Council

The NGO Working Group on the UN Security Council which was started in 1997 organizes regular meetings with Council Ambassadors on topics of interest (human rights, disarmament, humanitarian relief, etc.) for constituencies of about 34 NGO members. The diversity of the interests also makes this a very diverse group.

Different advocacy efforts need to be undertaken at different levels, and so this is one of the core motives of this initiative. On 10 April 2013, the Steering Group of the NGO WG on the SC approved the application of Pax Christi International. Marie Dennis, Co-President, will be the delegate of Pax Christi International. Marie will coordinate with the other colleagues active at the United Nations in New York. Pax Christi International can add value to the group but also expand its own network in order to strengthen the advocacy role of the movement and the representation mandate of the International Secretariat.
